DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 5 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

New claim 5 is drawn to the embodiment of figures 10-12, however claim 1 from which claim 5 depends is not generic, but is only drawn to the embodiments of figures 1-9, thus there is no originally filed disclosure for the invention found in new claim 5 and it is therefore new matter.

3. Normally a claim which fails to comply with the first and/or second paragraph of § 112 will not be analyzed as to whether it is patentable over the prior art since to do so would of necessity require speculation with regard to the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter, In re Steele, 308 F.2d 859, 862-63, 134 USPQ 292, (CCPA 1962) and In re Wilson, 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 496 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3723

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 3 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Darrah et. al..

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 2 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Darrah et. al. in view of Markwart et. al..

Darrah et. al. shows the claimed invention except for the use of a Z-shaped slit instead of a straight slit. Markwart et. al. suggests that a detent mechanism using a split ring to bias a ball detent can be made with a Z-shaped slit, figures 6 and 7 or a straight slit, figures 4 and 5. It would therefore be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Darrah et. al. by using a Z-shaped slit instead of a straight slit because Markwart et. al. suggests the use of either in the same type of ring member.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 and 5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Amended claim 1 is now not generic to the embodiment shown in figures 10-12, to which claim 5 is drawn, thus claim 5 contains new matter, i.e. an embodiment that is a hybrid of all the figures.

With respect to Darrah et. al. not showing a slit, clearly this is in error as any split ring has slit. The fact that applicant admits that the ring is C-shaped only enhances this point as in order to form the C, there must be a slit. Also, in order to function as a split ring, there must be some type of slit so that the arms of the ring can be resilient enough to fit into the socket body and bias against the inner sides of the first end portion.

With respect to the newly added limitation of the slit having a Z-shape, clearly Markwart et. al. shows that either type of slit shape is known and either can be used to accomplish the same function. Thus claim 2 is unpatentable.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
